

CGI Advantage Procurement

Efficiency, accountability, and transparency are top priorities in public sector procurement. Governments need a solution that increases buying power, streamlines processes and fuels greater decision-making.

CGI delivers next level purchasing

Designed exclusively for the unique business of government, CGI Advantage Procurement transforms the end-to-end purchasing process for procurement professionals, vendors and requestors. Its configurable features include solicitation management, contract administration, e-commerce and vendor management. In addition, self-service capabilities allow vendors to:

- Manage accounts
- Review and participate in solicitations
- Upload electronic catalogs
- Submit online invoices
- View financial transaction histories
- Access to information 24/7

CGI Advantage Procurement is fully integrated with CGI Advantage Financial Management to support the complete procure-to-pay cycle and provide real-time budget validation and posting.

Supporting unique government needs

CGI Advantage Procurement supports the entire purchasing life cycle—from submitting a requisition to conducting and evaluating a bid, creating awards, issuing payments, and facilitating contract management activities.

The solution aids compliance with federal, state, and local procurement regulations while encouraging innovation for key activities based on client needs.

With an integrated, built-for-government solution and proven web-based technology, CGI offers government procurement professionals, requestors, and vendors comprehensive tools to support, facilitate, and transform government procurement.
